MANHOOD

IN THE

YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION

The vigor above possessed by all are strong but in a few years we often the painful hue the lack lustre eye and unmanned form and the impossibility of application to mental effort show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and death with youth is removed from school and society into the country. This is one of the worst possible moves. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body become enfeebled to give rest to health, and in idle reflections, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the disease is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom from which nature is to show her saving power in restoring the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which boyhood and manhood undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parents' heart bleeds in anxiety and finches the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion.

It is attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Forebodings of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite, with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Specks Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mental Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and this alone they more dread for fear of themselves. No reposing in company, or marriage, can be entertained, for the mere thought of which alone fills them with fear and trembling.

THESE SYMPTOMS IF ALLOWED TO GO ON WILL FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendency of Dr. Wilson at the Blind Asylum, this same result occurred to many patients. Reason had for a time left them, and both left asylums. They were of both sexes and died within years of each other.

We do not say that these cases are not frequently cured by other treatment, but we say that they are not so frequently cured by other treatment, and that the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite lustreless, neither mirth nor grief ever visits the vacant mind, and the vice secret is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1 25 per bottle, or six bottles for 6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties, with no dangerous ingredient. A remedy at hand for the many pains and aches, wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect, but always relieving pain however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success.

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are Chilblains, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores, Felons, Pimples, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Barber's Itch, Deafness, Boils, Ringworm, Corns, Bites of Insects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Swollen Breasts, Itch, Scald Head, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children.

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied. Rub it on well with the hand three times a day. In several cases it has cured palsied limbs. For Piles it has been discovered to be a sure remedy. Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications. For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the pain. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately. Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It is good in cases of Erysipelas and Tumors. Cancers have been cured with it. The best Salve ever invented for Swollen Breast and Sore Nipples. No way injurious, but sure to afford relief. Sore or Weak Eyes—Rub it on the skin gently, once or twice a day. Cures Scalds by putting in the sores on a little piece of cotton. For Felons this is superior to anything known. For Pimples this acts like a charm. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief. For Old Sores, apply once a day.

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.—For Sores or Bruises on Horses or Cattle this Salve is invaluable, and has astonishing effect in curing scratches on horses. This Salve has worked its own way into notoriety, and is a safe and sure remedy for all the above ailments.

We the undersigned, have been acquainted with M. as a nurse for many years and believe her to be a Christian lady and a skillful nurse, and having used her salve in our families, it gives us great pleasure in saying it is the best general medicine we have ever used.

AN EXTRAORDINARY TRAGEDY

A crime has been very recently committed at the suburb of Stockwell, near London, England, so strange and so heart rending as to have caused a sensation all over the land. A clergyman, school-master and author, sixty-seven years of age, of spotless reputation, suddenly, and without provocation of which there is so far any knowledge, has murdered his wife. The deed was done with desperate and resolute purpose, for the poor woman's brains were literally beaten out, and the assassin afterward deliberately sat down and wrote the following note "To the surgeon. I have killed my wife in a fit of rage. Often and often she has provoked me, and I have endeavored to restrain myself, but rage overcame me, and I struck her. Her body will be found in the little room off the library.—The key is in a letter on the table. I hope she will be buried as becomes a lady of birth and position. She is an Irish lady, and her name is Anne." Having prepared this confession, and written some other letters, the miserable man took a dose of strychnine. The poison, however, failed to destroy him. The physician who was summoned was enabled to preserve his life, and the Rev John Selby Watson has now been put upon trial for murder.

The physician, Dr. Rugg, who was called to attend Mr. Watson, after administering restoratives, read the note we have quoted, found the key referred to, went to the room and discovered Mrs. Watson's body. It was lying "huddled up in a corner and had been dead two days." The head was covered with blood, and had received "six contused, lacerated wounds." The murder was committed, it would seem, on the night of Sunday, Oct 8. A servant who went out that night left the husband and wife sitting quietly together and decency. The Monitor hasn't quite made up its mind but the Times has.

A little daughter of Mr. Levi Robbins of Hiram, 2 years and 2 months old, went into the field to find her father on the afternoon of the 19th inst, and got lost in the woods. She was not missed until late in the day, search was at once commenced, but the child was not found until eight o'clock the next morning, she had wandered about two miles.

The lady portion of the school at Bethel, that they may not be outdone by the young men, have organized themselves into a debating Society. They have a constitution and a rigid code of by-laws, which are as rigidly enforced. Their programme consists of music, recitation, and debate, and the way the young ladies "speak upon the question" shows a spirit and determination that the young men would do well to copy. No gentlemen are allowed to be present at their meetings which are conducted with all the secrecy that young ladies are capable of.

JUSTICE TO THE NAVY. The Hon Gideon Welles, in his "first paper" on "Admiral Farragut and New Orleans," in the Galaxy for November, corrects in a general way some of the mistatements of newspaper correspondents and others, in relation to the action of the navy department and the services of the navy in the war of rebellion. In all matters pertaining to this subject, while Mr Welles was at the head of the navy department, his testimony we presume will be considered as conclusive. His general statement is that the reserve in the department, in keeping its movements, plans and expeditions, from newspaper correspondents and the public until they were matured, led to much misrepresentation of the navy department, and sometimes a gross injustice to the navy. These misrepresentations and the wrong impressions which resulted from them, Mr Welles states have gone into the histories, hastily got up, and have without examination been adopted as authentic.

In relation to some of the most important expeditions of the war these histories pass over the naval commander, or represent him as a subordinate, attached to a military enterprise. This was prominent in the case with what is called in the newspapers of the day "Gen. Butler's expedition to Hatteras." It has nowhere been spoken of as Flag Officer Stringham's expedition, and the accounts assume that the expedition originated with and was achieved by Gen. Butler, "when he merely went under orders with two battalions which were sent in compliance with a request made by the Navy Department for troops to assist Flag Officer Stringham the naval commander, in a naval expedition of which Gen. Butler knew nothing until he received orders directing him to co-operate in a naval enterprise."

It may be unfortunate for General Butler, who has enjoyed the eclat of some of these things so long, that in doing tardy justice to Admiral Stringham and the Navy Department a conspicuous feather is very quietly removed from his cap. The Hatteras expedition originated in and was put in operation by the Navy Department. It was the same with Admiral Dupont's expedition to Port Royal, in which Gen T. W. Sherman commanded the military, and with Admiral Farragut's expedition for the capture of New Orleans originally suggested and proposed by the Navy Department.

THE COAL TRADE. The depressed state of the market, says the Philadelphia Ledger, has led Lehigh operators to reduce the price of coal for the month of November 25 to 50 cents per ton on stove and the larger sizes of coal. Schuylkill operators have reduced their price to the dealers from 50 to 70 cents below the prices charged a month ago. The prices of lump and steamer will remain about the same as during October. The stock of coal is light at all the principal centres. The advance in labor and the decline in coal have been hard on collieries not favorably located and some few collieries have stopped work and are expected to remain idle till the market changes.

AMERICAN LLOYDS OFFICE,
Berlin Ship, New York,
Jan 31, 1871

The Register for 1871 is now ready. The January Supplements will contain the introduction to the history of the "Register." In order to supply the demand for the Exposition, an extra edition will be printed and furnished gratuitously to all parties in possession of a book called the "Record," or a book called the "American Lloyds Universal."

HARTHORN & KING.

The American Lloyds Register, being the acknowledged standard of American surveys of shipping, approved by underwriters generally, and adopted by the Peruvian Government as a standard for the selection of ships to carry Guano, also by the Coal Bomb Board of Underwriters and the West India Lloyds at Havana, &c., &c., it is important to own one to have their vessels surveyed and classed in its "Register." Having competent surveyors throughout the State of Maine, I am prepared to order or make surveys personally of these apply, and to grant certificates under the "Standard Rules" issued by the Board. Also parties can be supplied with copies of the American Lloyds Register, for 1871, by sending their orders to me at the National Insurance Company, Bangor.

STATE NEWS

The residence of Mr. Day of Brunswick, was damaged by fire on Wednesday.

A little daughter of Mr. Agerron of Portland, was run over by a jigger and had her legs broken.

The Portland Mon or and the Bath Times are getting up a discussion on the question, whether, because crime is not wholly extinct in the Atlantic states the government should allow the Mormons openly to defy all law and decency. The Monitor hasn't quite made up its mind but the Times has.

The lady portion of the school at Bethel, that they may not be outdone by the young men, have organized themselves into a debating Society. They have a constitution and a rigid code of by-laws, which are as rigidly enforced. Their programme consists of music, recitation, and debate, and the way the young ladies "speak upon the question" shows a spirit and determination that the young men would do well to copy. No gentlemen are allowed to be present at their meetings which are conducted with all the secrecy that young ladies are capable of.

JUSTICE TO THE NAVY. The Hon Gideon Welles, in his "first paper" on "Admiral Farragut and New Orleans," in the Galaxy for November, corrects in a general way some of the mistatements of newspaper correspondents and others, in relation to the action of the navy department and the services of the navy in the war of rebellion. In all matters pertaining to this subject, while Mr Welles was at the head of the navy department, his testimony we presume will be considered as conclusive. His general statement is that the reserve in the department, in keeping its movements, plans and expeditions, from newspaper correspondents and the public until they were matured, led to much misrepresentation of the navy department, and sometimes a gross injustice to the navy. These misrepresentations and the wrong impressions which resulted from them, Mr Welles states have gone into the histories, hastily got up, and have without examination been adopted as authentic.

In relation to some of the most important expeditions of the war these histories pass over the naval commander, or represent him as a subordinate, attached to a military enterprise. This was prominent in the case with what is called in the newspapers of the day "Gen. Butler's expedition to Hatteras." It has nowhere been spoken of as Flag Officer Stringham's expedition, and the accounts assume that the expedition originated with and was achieved by Gen. Butler, "when he merely went under orders with two battalions which were sent in compliance with a request made by the Navy Department for troops to assist Flag Officer Stringham the naval commander, in a naval expedition of which Gen. Butler knew nothing until he received orders directing him to co-operate in a naval enterprise."

It may be unfortunate for General Butler, who has enjoyed the eclat of some of these things so long, that in doing tardy justice to Admiral Stringham and the Navy Department a conspicuous feather is very quietly removed from his cap. The Hatteras expedition originated in and was put in operation by the Navy Department. It was the same with Admiral Dupont's expedition to Port Royal, in which Gen T. W. Sherman commanded the military, and with Admiral Farragut's expedition for the capture of New Orleans originally suggested and proposed by the Navy Department.

THE COAL TRADE. The depressed state of the market, says the Philadelphia Ledger, has led Lehigh operators to reduce the price of coal for the month of November 25 to 50 cents per ton on stove and the larger sizes of coal. Schuylkill operators have reduced their price to the dealers from 50 to 70 cents below the prices charged a month ago. The prices of lump and steamer will remain about the same as during October. The stock of coal is light at all the principal centres. The advance in labor and the decline in coal have been hard on collieries not favorably located and some few collieries have stopped work and are expected to remain idle till the market changes.

NEWSPAPERS AND THEIR QUARRELS. It does not weaken in the least the genuine and forcible truth of these observations of the New York Nation that that paper is not always proof against the temptation to slaply defend itself from the criticism of its contemporaries, or that the constant smarting of some of the cue order of newspapers does sometimes mislead the community, both as to the character and motives of the better class of journals and their conductors. There is a good share of every community who like to believe ugly of their neighbors, and to which Wendell Phillips Garrison answers in epigram. "Let people be who other way to cure the nuisance which the Nation complains of" than for the assailed and misrepresented party to meet assault and misrepresentation with self respecting indifference. It must die out sooner or later for want of fuel. Even the dog tired of baying at the moon in time for his dull brain found that the moon did not mind him, and that the majority of the spectators laughed at him. The Nation says.

"We have always wondered, and shall never cease to wonder, how it is the editors of newspapers have not found out how utterly nauseating to the great bulk of their readers these quarrels with each other are, and how very few people read them, and how completely all interest in them is confined to other newspaper men. The wonder, too, is made all the greater by the fact that no newspaper was probably ever yet injured in circulation or influence by what another newspaper said of it. The success of a paper, and the estimation in which it is held, depend, as in the case of individuals, on its general character—that is, on prolonged experience of the way in which it does its work, and of the value of its judgements of men and affairs. Any paper which has gained a respectable footing in these respects, cannot be in the least injured by another paper's sayings, every now and then, that it is a fool, a liar, or a knave."

THE DOGMAS OF SOCIALISM

In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread—Men are prone to recognize only the first clause of this maxim, forgetting that the sweetness of the bread thus eaten transforms the curse into a blessing. From time immemorial portions of humanity have attempted to evade this law and yet to-day as in centuries of the past, the purest happiness and contentment are found as the reward of the most toil. The desire to shirk the responsibilities and privations of life, has ever been a prolific source of disorder, and leading spirits have always found the most pliant material among the classes coveting their neighbors prosperity while refusing to emulate the thrift which secured it. Of course there has and has been a vast amount of suffering among industrious and well meaning people and any amelioration of the condition of such is worthy the most arduous efforts, but this can be accomplished by any arbitrary process conflicting with the conditions that govern humanity. The principle of compensation runs through all phases of earthly life, and both hardship and good-fortune are compensative terms deriving their significance from contrast with different experiences, as is admirably illustrated by the story of the Irish emigrant who wrote to his friends in Old Ireland that America was a fine country as he was paid $200 per week for carving some bricks to the architecture of a building while there was a fellow working who did all the work.

Some of the so called "Labor Reform" papers are just now reviving the worst of the communistic dogmas and echoing the thought that the palaces of indolence and wealth are built upon the shoulders of the supporters of industry. The following article from the Worcester (Mass) Gazette applies the reins of reason and common sense to some of the views such as is worthy of being read and heeded.

The idea that property is fascinating to a portion, especially in the beginning of manhood, by idleness. There is a vague belief among the poor of the land, that the rich which strengthens this belief. The hard working mechanic enjoys occasional holiday so intensely, that he actually falls into the idea that it would be a blessing never to work while on his part. The successful merchant draws away the summer at some watering place, nursing his rheumatism and smoking cigars, utterly worn out and disgusted with life, because he has nothing to do but think of his aches. If he is poverty stricken wretch in the tenement could match the pain of an empty stomach for an hour with the torture of the gouty millionaire, there would be many less discontent in this world. But man's lot is ordained from conditions rise, the gratifications, and it is true also that happiness does not dwell with a cheerful temperament and not from the possession of wealth. Apart from all this there can be no permanent organization of property in this world, and we shall never see even Mr Wendell Phillips dividing his great wealth with the poor. Even in heaven there will be high and low seats—although there is no quarrelling for saying that there at least Dives and Lazarus will find their true level. If it were possible to divide the property of this world into equal piles the next day after the division would be dissolute and the lazy would have wasted a part of their portion and the industrious and thrifty would have added to the heap. When the land has no longer divisions and is all one plain at a dead level, it will be time to talk of the equal distribution of property—not before.

This is so much sufficiently obvious to most thinking persons, yet from the speeches of Mr Wendell Phillips one gets the idea that the world is just the contrary to be true, and that he would never rest contented until the world is a great Utopia, with a common purse and bread and butter and suits of clothing growing on trees which require no culture. It is such speak plain nonsense, and the mischief of it is that it disguises real reforms. It turns the public from the true wants of the lower classes. All men must work, this is a fact, but it is true nevertheless that the habits of property bear hardly on some classes and that their wants must receive due consideration. This is true in America and in England as well. In the latter nation is more pressing. Some of the demands which the leaders of the working classes were reported to have made to Mr Fielden were such as the noblemen might have agreed to as for instance a provision for their better education—which might perhaps be effected by establishing new colleges in the districts of London—and a wide system of elementary and technical schools. Reforms in the direction of reform must be slow to be true, and only a temporary advantage the unsuccessful could be gained by a violent and ill-judged outbreak. At present, prejudice is the most serious obstacle to the consummation of any such arrangement.

The Democratic editors contained no allusion to the important report received by telegraph Wednesday night, regarding the declaration of most of law the night of the South will be a practical nullification of some remark warranting such construction. We can imagine that the President might express his determination to suppress the outrages in the South even if it required the whole force of the Government, but other means will present themselves which has not yet been exercised in the most lawless sections.

TO OUR FRIENDS—We assure our newspaper friends that the many kindly and complimentary references to the WHIG AND COURIER and its staff, which have accompanied the reports of the recent celebration in these cities are fully appreciated. Our regret has been that the said usual duties devolving upon office at such a time, prevented the extension of acknowledgments which we should gladly have received from members of the fraternity who understand the situation, and we will only say we are glad that our friends enjoyed themselves so well and promise them always a cordial welcome to Bangor and to our establishment.

Estimates made in Washington of the probable results of the November elections figure confidently on large Republican gains in Wisconsin. Washburn will have an increased majority over 1869. It is believed that he will even carry the City of Milwaukee. Minnesota reports estimate an additional 1000 over usual Republican majority. In Illinois, Gen Beveridge's majority will be nearly as large as that of Gen Logan, while in Mississippi, 20,000 majority on the total vote for Legislature is the lowest estimate yet made. New Jersey Republicans assert that they will carry that State by about 5,000, and as for New York such report made to the Republican Executive Committee is more encouraging than the preceding one.

It appears that the downfall of the Hohenwart Cabinet at Vienna was brought about in the following manner. Count Von Beustin informed the Emperor that he utterly disapproved of Count Hohenwart's policy toward Bohemia, and that he would resign if Hohenwart and his colleagues were not dismissed. The Emperor promised to give a definite answer in a day or two. Meanwhile, at the Vienna University Hall, Minister Giretzek was to deliver an address, but he no sooner made his appearance in the hall than the students burst into loud groans, which completely drowned his voice, and he soon had to leave the room. His colleagues, Habletenek and Schaeffle, followed him out, but Count Von Beust quietly kept his seat. Habletenek and Schaeffle immediately hastened to the Emperor, informed him of what the Chancellor had done at the Aula; and offered their resignation in case the Chancellor should be retained in office. The next day Francis Joseph dismissed the whole Hohenwart Cabinet.

A thrifty Boston boot and shoe firm invented a boot designed to stimulate Southern trade, with square toes and a likeness of Jefferson Davis on the calf. As this sold well a second boot of finer materials was designed, with a likeness of Stonewall Jackson stamped on the leg. Next they applied at Washington for a patent for their trade mark, but the examiner, smelling treason, denied the application on the ground that it tended to disloyalty at the South. An appeal has been taken to the Commissioner. It is not a matter of overwhelming importance, but loyal men might feel that the worthiest punishment for such a lack of patriotism, would be the application of that square toed Davis boot in an emphatic and energetic manner to the party responsible.

The Democracy are still quarrelling over the "New Departure" which has failed to work as desired. Here are two specimen bricks.

The Anson Advocate queries, if in accepting the results of the late war, we should accept Grant, the most significant result. We answer, yes, if we are obliged to, as we were in 1868, and we fear we shall be, if Democrats insist upon the party fighting the Presidential battle of next year upon issues that are settled and dead, and upon which we have once been overwhelmingly whipped.

[Maine Standard

We propose to do no such thing. If issues on which the last "Presidential battle" was fought are "settled and dead" why breathe into them new life, either to accept or reject—let the dead bury their dead.

[Anson Advocate.

The N Y Tribune says of the National Insurance Convention:

The session has in fact proved, as we anticipated, one of the most important business meetings ever held in this or any other country, and its effects should be felt, in the future, in wiser legislation, greater restraint upon illegitimate insurance speculation, more active promotion of sound and well-conducted enterprises, and far greater protection to the policy holder.

THE CIVIL SERVICE. George William Curtis, chairman of the civil service commission, had an interview with the President on Wednesday, and presented the rules adopted by the commission to govern clerical appointments, competitive examinations, etc. The commission are now considering the subject of appointing Postmasters. It is thought that those receiving salaries of less than $100 annually, numbering 22,000 of the total 30,000, should not submit to a competitive examination, the offices being for mere neighborhood accommodation and of little pecuniary profit.

BISMARCK AT SEDAN. The Journal of Sedan, published by Genl Ducrot, contains the following, headed "Remarkable expression made by Bismarck at the time of the surrender, in reply to the appeal of General Wimpffen for better terms:"

"I have little belief in gratitude in general and none at all in the gratitude of the French people. You could not forgive us Sadowa, when neither your interests nor your glory were in the least compromised, and will you forgive us the disaster of Sedan? Never!! If we were to make peace now, in five years, or as soon as you were able, you would commence the war. This is all the gratitude we could expect from the French people."

BRIGHAM YOUNG. A Salt Lake letter states that Brigham Young has instructed delegate Hooper to propose to Congress the admission of Utah as a State upon the abolition of polygamy, and the suits now pending against the Mormons to be withdrawn.

Gustave Kuster, who, was found on the track of the Hudson River Railroad, having been shot through the face and robbed, was still alive on Thursday. He was struck by the locomotive, thrown to a considerable distance and his right arm terribly shattered, besides being otherwise severely injured. He was a well-to-do merchant of Yonkers, and has a large family. A large amount of money in his pockets was undisturbed by the robbers, they taking only his gold watch.

Miss Josephine Mansfield has commenced suit against James Fisk, Jr, to recover $40,000, which she claims Mr Fisk obtained from her while acting in a fiduciary capacity. She has left the State and written him a letter, giving a whole history of her life since she first became acquainted with him. She claims to have full knowledge of the purchase of the Legislature by Gould, the amount of money paid, and to whom it was given.—She professes to have received the facts while sitting at the telegraph instrument in company with Fisk when the latter was receiving cipher dispatches from Gould at Albany.—She also says she knows all about the intrigues between the Erie officials and the Ring. The developments of the suit are looked for with some interest.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Sanguine Republicans claim that they will carry New York by forty thousand majority.

Both branches of the Georgia Legislature organized on Wednesday.

An apparently successful movement to fuse parties in the interest of city reform is progressing in Troy N Y.

Why does not Mayor Hall ask Tweed to resign? He tried his persuasive eloquence upon Connolly, upon far less provocation.

The majority for Bolander, Republican candidate for State Superintendent of Schools in California, will be from 9000 to 12,000.

Mayor Mason of Chicago says that "the world has thrown its arms around Chicago"—a good phrase that will live more than one year.

The Democrats of Virginia are preparing for the coming election by organizing as military companies, composed largely of ex Confederates.

The Western Rural, of Chicago, which like the rest of the papers, was burned out, issues a "Fire Extra" to say that it has saved its subscription books, and will be out in a month as good as new.

President Grant has written Dr. J. L. Kidwell, President of the Seneca Stone Co requesting him to dispose of his stock, $20,000, in that company, which he has held since long before his nomination and received no revenue whatever from it.

The Philadelphia North American and United States Gazette on Monday completed the one hundredth year of its existence and the eighty seventh of its continuous daily publication it being the oldest daily newspaper on the American continent.

The proposition of the St. Louis Republican to dispense with a Democratic nomination for the Presidency next year, is opposed by the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Indianapolis Sentinel, and the Chicago Times. The latter paper has an article in regard to it, under the head, "A Crazy Departure."

The Cincinnati Commercial says: "The elections this Fall are favorable to the Democrats. That is to say, the Democrats are being beaten so thoroughly this year, that it seems fairly possible they may next year have a measure of political wisdom larger than they have latterly been accustomed to."

The Democratic return judge of Franklin County, Pa., has backed down from the position originally taken by him, and has given the certificate of election to J. M. Weakley, the Republican candidate for Senator, declaring him to have received a majority of 883.—The return judge of Westmoreland will no doubt follow suit before the Supreme Court compels him to.

The Journal De St. Petersburg, referring to the case of the Russian Minister at Washington, denies that Catacazy was told that he could not stay at Washington after the visit of Alexis, and says that Mr. Curtin, the American Minister, has never informed the Russian Government that the American Government threatened to send the Russian Minister his passports.

THE LEEHAN MURDER. The murder of Kate Leehan near Boston, is still shrouded in mystery. Several persons have been arrested, including an insane man who accuses himself of the crime, but is not believed. It is come to be believed that the hair found in Miss Leehan's hand came from her own, not from another's head. This drops one more link from the chain which was to convict the guilty party.

The Means of Escape

The full has many perils for the weak and feeble, and its sudden atmospheric changes are trying to the constitutions of even the robust. The chilling temperature of the nights, as compared with the almost summer warmth of the days, necessarily exercises an unhealthy influence on all who are exposed to it. Hence dysentery, diarrhœa, intermittent fevers, bilious attacks, and derangements of all the secretions, are common at this season. The true way to escape them is to meet the causes with a protective and invigorating medicine. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are designed for this exigency. It is powerful vegetable specific relieves the system of all acrid humors, purifies the fluids, tones the secretive organs, promotes healthy evaporations through the pores, increases the activity of the digestive functions, cheers the spirits, and regulates the bowels. To do this is to make the whole body vigorous, and render it proof against the vicissitudes of temperature, and against malaria. A course of the great tonic and alterative is here forewarned as the most effective preventive at this season. If, on the other hand, the mischief is already done, and intermittent or remittent fever, is actually present, or the liver, bowels, or stomach disordered, there is no medicine so certain to effect a quick and thorough cure as this harmless and agreeable preparation.

The supply of Cattle at market this week was not so large as that of last week. But quality was better, so that the was not very much difference. Cattle cost higher at Albany, and some of the best lots sold at an advance of ¼ cent $ lb on the price current a week ago. But of the poorer grades would not think many lots will bring higher prices than the same quality did last week. There were but a few Beef Cattle among those from Maine.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $9 @ 15; two year olds $25 @ 38; three year olds $45 @ 65 a 70 each. Those of a poorer grade at prices ranging from $7 @ $35 P head. Many of the Western Cattle are bought up for slaughter.

Milch Cows—Prices range from $25 @ $60. Store Cows $20 @ $35 P head. Most of those offered for sale are of a common grade. But few extra fancy breeds are offered here. Prices of Milch Cows depend very much upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra and select lots at $5,25 @ 5,50; ordinary lots $4,50 @ 5,00; Lambs 6,00 @ 9,00; or from 4 to 6c P lb. Trade has been quite active. Thus were but a few Western sheep at market.

Swine—Store Pigs, Wholesale 4 @ 5c P lb; retail 6 @ 7c P lb. Fat Hogs—5,000 in the market; prices 5 @ 5½c P lb. The Store Pig trade has been dull this week.

The Waterville purchaser was ignorant of Hill's character, and readily turned over the ox to its owner as soon as he discovered the facts in the case.

—The value of the daily reports of the Government signal service on the weather, can hardly be overestimated. They have reduced the whole thing to a perfect system, and rarely fail of accurately predicting the character of the weather at any given point for twenty-four hours in advance. At every signal station is posted each day a map showing the thermometer and barometer readings, the state of the atmosphere, direction of winds, &c., at all the other stations, which shows at a glance the weather all over the United States. We are indebted to Secretary Belknap for a number of these maps, which are very ingeniously prepared.

Boating Association. We learn that active measures are in progress for the organization of a Boating Association in this city. An interest in boating matters has been gradually growing up here for several years past, and it received a great impetus by the regatta and subsequent races in October. Quite a number of boats and shells are already owned here and nearly a dozen more of different sizes have been ordered. Boating is a healthful, manly exercise, and we are glad to see steps taken to promote its extension among the young men of this city.

Vessel Stolen and Recaptured.—Thursday evening of last week, Capt. Magune left his vessel, the schooner James Warren, secured to the wharf at Rockport, and was surprised to find her missing the next morning. The matter was placed in the hands of Sheriff Grose, who immediately chartered the sloop Havelock, and with a sufficient number of aids, started down the harbor in pursuit. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon they discovered the lost schooner, under sail. Sheriff Grose ordered her to heave to, which order was promptly obeyed. The sloop's boat was sent to board her, and as the thieves found there was no way of escaping they surrendered without any words. They were transferred to the sloop and a crew put aboard the schooner to take her in. The thieves hail from Newburg, N. Y., and gave their names as Wm. E. Ireland and John Wesley Giles. They were arraigned before Justice Talbot, plead guilty, and were committed to jail to await trial at the December term of Court.

ARTICLE II

The Arbitrators shall meet at Geneva, in Switzerland at the earliest convenient day after they shall have been named and shall proceed impartially and carefully to examine and decide all questions that shall be laid before them on the part of the Government of the United States and Her Britannic Majesty respectively All questions considered by the Tribunal, including the final award, shall be decided by a majority of all the Arbitrators

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall also name one person to attend the Tribunal as its agent to represent it generally in all matters connected with the arbitration

ARTICLE III

The written or printed case of each of the two Parties, accompanied by the documents, the official correspondence, and other evidence on which each relies shall be delivered in duplicate to each of the Arbitrators and to the agent of the other Party as soon as may be after the organization of the Tribunal, but within a period not exceeding six months from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of this Treaty

ARTICLE IV.

Within four months after the delivery on both sides of the written or printed case either Party may, in like manner, deliver in duplicate to each of the said Arbitrators, and to the agent of the other Party, a counter case and additional documents, correspondence, and evidence, in reply to the case, documents, correspondence, and evidence so presented by the other Party

The Arbitrators may however, extend the time for delivering such counter case, documents, correspondence and evidence, when, in their judgment, it becomes necessary in consequence of the distance of the place from which the evidence to be presented is to be procured

If in the case submitted to the Arbitrators either Party shall have specified or alluded to any report or document in its own exclusive possession without annexing a copy, such Party shall be bound, if the other Party thinks proper to apply for it, to furnish that Party with a copy thereof; and either Party may call upon the other, through the Arbitrators, to produce the originals or certified copies of any papers adduced as evidence, giving in each instance such reasonable notice as the Arbitrators may require

ARTICLE V

It shall be the duty of the agent of each Party, within two months after the expiration of the time limited for the delivery of the counter case on both sides to deliver in duplicate to each of the said Arbitrators and to the agent of the other Party a written or printed argument showing the points and referring to the evidence upon which his Government claims the decision of the Tribunal, if they desire further elucidation with regard to any point, require a written or printed statement or argument or oral argument by counsel upon it, but in such case the other Party shall be called upon to reply either orally or in writing, as the case may be.

ARTICLE VI

In deciding the matters submitted to the Arbitrators, they shall be governed by the following three rules which are agreed upon by the High Contracting Parties as rules to be taken as applicable to the case and by such principles of International law not inconsistent therewith as the Arbitrators shall determine to have been applicable to the case

RULES.

A neutral Government is bound—

First to use due diligence to prevent the fitting out, arming or equipping, within its jurisdiction, of any vessel which it has reasonable ground to believe is intended to cruise or carry on war against a Power with which it is at peace, and also to use like diligence to prevent the departure from its jurisdiction of any vessel intended for cruising or carrying on war as above such vessel having been specially adapted, in whole or in part, within such jurisdiction, to warlike use.

Secondly, not to permit or suffer either belligerent to make use of its ports or waters as the base of naval operations against the other, or for the purpose of the renewal or augmentation of military supplies or arms, or the recruitment of men

Thirdly to exercise due diligence in its own ports and waters, and as to all persons within its jurisdiction, to prevent any violation of the foregoing obligations and duties.

Her Britannic Majesty has commanded Her High Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries to declare that Her Majesty's Government cannot assent to the foregoing rules as to a retrospective effect, but that Her Majesty's Government, in order to evince the earnest desire of Her Majesty to strengthen the friendly relations between the two countries and of making satisfactory provision for the future, agrees that in deciding the questions between the two countries arising out of those claims the Arbitrators should assume that Her Majesty's Government had undertaken to act upon the principles set forth in these rules.

And the High Contracting Parties agree to observe these rules as between themselves in future and to bring them to the knowledge of other maritime Powers, and to invite them to accede to them

ARTICLE VII

The decision of the Tribunal shall, if possible, be made within three months from the close of the argument on both sides.

It shall be made in writing and dated, and shall be signed by the Arbitrators who may assent to it

The said Tribunal shall first determine as to each vessel separately whether Great Britain has, by any action or omission, failed to fulfil any of the duties set forth in the foregoing three rules, or recognized by the principles of International Law not inconsistent with such rules and shall certify such fact as to each of the said vessels In case the Tribunal find that Great Britain has failed to fulfil any duty or duties as aforesaid, it may, if it think proper, proceed to award a sum in gross to be paid by Great Britain to the United States for all the claims referred to it; and in such case the gross sum so awarded shall be paid in gold by the Government of Great Britain to the Government of the United States at Washington within twelve months after the date of the award

The award shall be in duplicate, one copy whereof shall be delivered to the agent of the United States for the Government, and the other copy shall be delivered to the agent of Great Britain for his Government

ARTICLE VIII.

Each Government shall pay its own agent and provide for the proper remuneration of the counsel employed by it and of the Arbitrator appointed by it, and for the expense of preparing and submitting its case to the Tribunal All other expenses connected with the arbitration shall be defrayed by the two Governments in equal moieties

ARTICLE IX

The Arbitrators shall keep an accurate record of their proceedings and may appoint and employ the necessary officers to assist them

ARTICLE X

In case the Tribunal finds that Great Britain has failed to fulfil any duty or duties as aforesaid, and does not award a sum in gross, the High Contracting Parties agree that a Board of Assessors shall be appointed to ascertain and determine what claims are valid and what amount or amounts shall be paid by Great Britain to the United States on account of the liability arising from such failure, as to each vessel according to the extent of such liability as fixed by the Arbitrators

The Board of Assessors shall be constituted as follows One member thereof shall be named by the President of the United States, one member thereof shall be named by Her Britannic Majesty, and one member thereof shall be named by the Representative at Washington of His Majesty the King of Italy, and in case of a vacancy happening from any cause it shall be filled in the same manner in which the original appointment was made

As soon as possible after such nominations the Board of Assessors shall be organized in Washington, with power to hold their sittings there or in New York, or in Boston The members thereof shall severally subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine and decide to the best of their judgment and according to justice and equity all matters submitted to them, and shall forthwith proceed, under such rules and regulations as they may prescribe, to the investigation of the claims which shall be presented to them by the Government of the United States, and shall examine and decide upon them in such order and manner as to them may think proper, but such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the Governments of the United States and of Great Britain, respectively. They shall be bound to hear on each separate claim, if required, one person on behalf of each Government, as counsel or agent A majority of the Assessors in each case shall be sufficient for a decision.

The decision of the Assessors shall be given upon each claim in writing, and shall be signed by them respectively and dated

Every claim shall be presented to the Assessors within six months from the day of their first meeting but they may, for good cause shown, extend the time for the presentation of any claim to a further period not exceeding three months.

The Assessors shall report to each Government at or before the expiration of one year from the date of their first meeting the amount of claims decided by them up to the date of such report, if further claims then remain undecided, they shall make a further report at or before the expiration of two years from the date of their first meeting, and in case any claims remain undetermined at that time, they shall make a final report within a further period of six months

The report or reports shall be made in duplicate, and one copy thereof shall be delivered to the Secretary of State of the United States, and one copy thereof to the representative of Her Britannic Majesty at Washington

All sums of money which may be awarded under this Article shall be payable at Washington, in coin, within twelve months after the delivery of each report

The Board of Assessors may employ such clerks as they shall think necessary.

The expenses of the Board of Assessors shall be borne equally by the two Governments, and paid from time to time, as may be found expedient, on the production of accounts certified by the Board The remuneration of the Assessors shall also be paid by the two Governments in equal moieties in a similar manner

ARTICLE XI

The High Contracting Parties engage to consider the result of the proceedings of the Tribunal of Arbitration and of the Board of Assessors should such Board be appointed as a full, perfect, and final settlement of all the claims hereinbefore referred to and further engage that every such claim, whether the same may or may not have been presented to the notice of, made a preferred, or laid before the Tribunal or Board shall, from and after the conclusion of the proceedings of the Tribunal or Board, be considered and treated as finally settled, barred and the forever barred

ARTICLE XII

The High Contracting Parties agree that all claims on the part of corporations, companies, or private individuals, or citizens of the United States, upon the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, arising out of acts committed against the persons or property of citizens of the United States during the period between the 13th day of April, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and the ninth of April eighteen hundred and sixty-five, inclusive, not being claims growing out of the acts of the vessels referred to in Article I of this Treaty, and all claims, with the like exception, on the part of corporations, companies or private individuals, subjects of Her Britannic Majesty upon the Government of the United States, arising out of acts committed against the persons or property of subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, in the same period which may have been presented to the Commissioners for their interposition with the other and which yet remain unadjusted, as well as any other such claims which may hereafter be presented to the Commissioners in the time specified in Article XIV of this Treaty, shall be referred to three Commissioners, to be appointed in the following manner, that is to say One Commissioner shall be named by the President of the United States, one by Her Britannic Majesty and the third by the President of the Swiss Confederation and Her Britannic Majesty conjointly, and in case the third Commissioner shall not have been so named within a period of three months from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of this Treaty then the third Commissioner shall be named by the Representative at Washington of His Majesty the King of Italy In case of the death, absence, or incapacity of any Commissioner, or in the event of any Commissioner omitting or ceasing to act, the vacancy shall be filled in the manner hereinbefore provided for making the original appointment, the period of three months in case of such substitution being calculated from the date of the happening of the vacancy

The Commissioners so named shall meet at Washington at the earliest convenient period after they have been respectively named, and shall before proceeding to any business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine and decide, to the best of their judgment, and according to justice and equity all such claims as shall be laid before them on the part of the Government of the United States and of Her Britannic Majesty respectively, and such decisions shall be entered on the record of their proceedings

ARTICLE XIII

The Commissioners shall then forthwith proceed to the investigation of the claims which shall be presented to them. They shall investigate and decide such claims in such order and such manner as they think proper but upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective Governments They shall be entitled to receive and consider all written documents or statements which may be presented to them by or on behalf of the respective Governments in support of or in answer to any claim and to hear, if required, one person on each side, on behalf of each Government, as counsel or agent for such Government on each and every separate claim A majority of the Commissioners shall be sufficient for an award in each case The award shall be given upon each claim in writing, and shall be signed by the Commissioners assenting to it It shall be competent for the Government to name one person to attend the Commissioners as its agent, to present and enforce orals on its behalf, and to answer claims made upon it and to represent it generally in all matters connected with the investigation and decision thereof

The High Contracting Parties hereby engage to consider the decision of the Commissioners as absolutely final and conclusive upon each claim decided upon by them, and to give full effect to such decisions without any objection, evasion, or delay whatsoever

ARTICLE XIV

Every claim shall be presented to the Commissioners within six months from the day of their first meeting, unless in any case where reasons for delay shall be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, an extension of time in any such case, the period for presenting the claim may be extended by them to any time not exceeding three months longer

The Commissioners shall be bound to examine and decide upon every claim within two years from the days of their first meeting It shall be competent for the Commissioners to decline to entertain any claim or any part thereof which may have been previously submitted to the Government of the United States and which has not been duly made, preferred, and laid before them, either wholly or in part and which they shall adjudge to have been withdrawn by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty in the course of the discussions which have taken place between the two Governments since the 17th day of April, 1869, and such claim or part thereof so withdrawn shall not be admitted.

ARTICLE XV

The Commissioners shall keep an accurate record, and correct minutes or notes of all their proceedings, with dates thereof, and may appoint and employ a secretary, and any other necessary officer or officers, to assist them in the transaction of the business which may come before them.

Each Government shall pay its own Commissioner and agent or counsel All other expenses shall be defray d by the two Governments in equal moieties

The whole expenses of the Commission, including contingent expenses, shall be defrayed by a ratable deduction on the amount of the awards, if any, made by the Commission, provided always that such deduction shall not exceed the rate of five per cent on the sums so awarded.

ARTICLE XVI

The High Contracting Parties engage to consider the result of the proceedings of this Commission as a full, perfect, and final settlement of all such claims as are mentioned in Article XII of this Treaty upon either Government, and further engage that every such claim, whether or not the same may have been presented to the notice of, made, preferred, or laid before the said Commission, shall, from and after the conclusion of the proceedings of the said Commission, be considered and treated as finally settled, barred and their forever barred and forever barred

ARTICLE XVII

It is agreed that, for the term of years mentioned in Article XXXIII of this Treaty fish oil and fish of all kinds (except fish of the inland lakes, and of the rivers falling into them, and except fish preserved in oil) being the produce of the fisheries of the United States, or of the Dominion of Canada, or of Prince Edward's Island, shall be admitted into each country, respectively, free of duty.

ARTICLE XVIII

Inasmuch as it is asserted by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty that the privileges accorded by the citizens of the United States under Article XVIII of this Treaty are of greater value than those accorded by Articles XIX and XXI of this Treaty to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, and this assertion is not admitted by the Government of the United States, it is further agreed that Commissioners shall be appointed to determine, having regard to the privileges accorded by the United States to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, as stated in Articles XIX and XXI of this Treaty, the amount of any compensation which, in their opinion, ought to be paid by the Government of the United States to the Government of Her Britannic Majesty in exchange for the privileges accorded to the citizens of the United States under Article XVIII of this Treaty, and that any sum of money which the said Commissioners may so award shall be paid by the United States Government, in a gross sum within twelve months after such award shall have been given.

ARTICLE XIX.

The Commissioners referred to in the preceding Article shall be appointed in the following manner, that is to say One Commissioner shall be named by the President of the United States, one by Her Britannic Majesty, and a third by the President of the United States and Her Britannic Majesty conjointly, and in case the Commissioner shall not have been so named within a period of three months from the date when this article shall take effect, then the Commissioner shall be named by the Representative at London of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary. In case of the death, absence, or incapacity of any Commissioner, or in the event of any Commissioner omitting or ceasing to act, the vacancy shall be filled in the manner hereinbefore provided for making the original appointment, the period of three months being calculated from the date of the happening of the vacancy

The Commissioners shall meet at Halifax, in the Province of Nova Scotia, at the earliest convenient period after they have been respectively named, and shall, before proceeding to any business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine and decide the matters referred to them to the best of their judgment and according to justice and equity, and such declaration shall be entered on the record of their proceedings

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall also name one person to attend the Commission as its agent, to represent it generally in all matters connected with the Commission

ARTICLE XX

It is agreed that the places designated by the Commissioners appointed under the first Article of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain concluded at Washington on the 5th of June 1854, upon the coasts of Her Britannic Majesty's Dominions and the United States, as places reserved from the common right of fishing under that Treaty, shall be regarded as in like manner reserved from the common right of fishing under the preceding articles In case any question should arise between the Governments of the United States and of Her Britannic Majesty as to the common right of fishing in places not thus designated as reserved, it is agreed that a Commission shall be appointed to the same such places, and shall be constituted in the same manner and have the same powers, duties, and authority as the Commission appointed under the said first Article of the Treaty of the 5th of June, 1854.

ARTICLE XXI

It is agreed that, for the term of years mentioned in Article XXXIII of this Treaty fish oil and fish of all kinds (except fish of the inland lakes and of the rivers falling into them, and except fish preserved in oil) being the produce of the fisheries of the United States, or of the Dominion of Canada, or of Prince Edward's Island, shall be admitted into each country, respectively, free of duty.

ARTICLE XXII

Inasmuch as it is asserted by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty that the privileges accorded by the citizens of the United States under Article XVIII of this Treaty are of greater value than those accorded by Articles XIX and XXI of this Treaty to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, and this assertion is not admitted by the Government of the United States, it is further agreed that Commissioners shall be appointed to determine, having regard to the privileges accorded by the United States to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, as stated in Articles XIX and XXI of this Treaty, the amount of any compensation which, in their opinion, ought to be paid by the Government of the United States to the Government of Her Britannic Majesty in exchange for the privileges accorded to the citizens of the United States under Article XVIII of this Treaty, and that any sum of money which the said Commissioners may so award shall be paid by the United States Government, in a gross sum within twelve months after such award shall have been given.

ARTICLE XXIII.

The Commissioners referred to in the preceding Article shall be appointed in the following manner, that is to say One Commissioner shall be named by the President of the United States, one by Her Britannic Majesty, and a third by the President of the United States and Her Britannic Majesty conjointly, and in case the Commissioner shall not have been so named within a period of three months from the date when this article shall take effect, then the Commissioner shall be named by the Representative at London of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary. In case of the death, absence, or incapacity of any Commissioner, or in the event of any Commissioner omitting or ceasing to act, the vacancy shall be filled in the manner hereinbefore provided for making the original appointment, the period of three months being calculated from the date of the happening of the vacancy

The Commissioners so named shall meet at Washington at the earliest convenient period after they have been respectively named, and shall before proceeding to any business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine and decide, to the best of their judgment, and according to justice and equity all such claims as shall be laid before them on the part of the Government of the United States and of Her Britannic Majesty respectively, and such decisions shall be entered on the record of their proceedings

The Commissioners shall then forthwith proceed to the investigation of the claims which shall be presented to them. They shall investigate and decide such claims in such order and such manner as they think proper but upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective Governments They shall be entitled to receive and consider all written documents or statements which may be presented to them by or on behalf of the respective Governments in support of or in answer to any claim and to hear, if required, one person on each side, on behalf of each Government, as counsel or agent for such Government on each and every separate claim A majority of the Commissioners shall be sufficient for an award in each case The award shall be given upon each claim in writing, and shall be signed by the Commissioners assenting to it It shall be competent for the Government to name one person to attend the Commissioners as its agent, to present and enforce orals on its behalf, and to answer claims made upon it and to represent it generally in all matters connected with the investigation and decision thereof

The High Contracting Parties hereby engage to consider the decision of the Commissioners as absolutely final and conclusive upon each claim decided upon by them, and to give full effect to such decisions without any objection, evasion, or delay whatsoever

Every claim shall be presented to the Commissioners within six months from the day of their first meeting, unless in any case where reasons for delay shall be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, an extension of time in any such case, the period for presenting the claim may be extended by them to any time not exceeding three months longer

The Commissioners shall be bound to examine and decide upon every claim within two years from the days of their first meeting It shall be competent for the Commissioners to decline to entertain any claim or any part thereof which may have been previously submitted to the Government of the United States and which has not been duly made, preferred, and laid before them, either wholly or in part and which they shall adjudge to have been withdrawn by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty in the course of the discussions which have taken place between the two Governments since the 17th day of April, 1869, and such claim or part thereof so withdrawn shall not be admitted.

The Commissioners shall keep an accurate record, and correct minutes or notes of all their proceedings, with dates thereof, and may appoint and employ a secretary, and any other necessary officer or officers, to assist them in the transaction of the business which may come before them.

Each Government shall pay its own Commissioner and agent or counsel All other expenses shall be defray d by the two Governments in equal moieties

ARTICLE XVII

The High Contracting Parties engage to consider the result of the proceedings of this Commission as a full, perfect, and final settlement of all such claims as are mentioned in Article XII of this Treaty upon either Government, and further engage that every such claim, whether or not the same may have been presented to the notice of, made, preferred, or laid before the said Commission, shall, from and after the conclusion of the proceedings of the said Commission, be considered and treated as finally settled, barred and their forever barred and forever barred

ARTICLE XVIII

It is agreed that the High Contracting Parties that, in addition to the liberty secured to the United States fishermen by the Convention between the United States and Great Britain signed at London on the 20th day of October, 1818, of taking, curing, and drying fish on certain coasts of the British North American Colonies therein defined, the inhabitants of the United States shall have, in common with the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, the liberty, for the term of years mentioned in Article XXXIII of this Treaty, to take fish of every kind, except shell fish, on the sea coasts and shores, and in the bays, harbours, and creeks, of the Provinces of Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and the Colony of Prince Edward's Island and of the several islands thereunto adjacent, without being restricted to any distance from the shore, with permission to land upon the said coasts and shores and islands and also upon the Magdalen Islands, for the purpose of drying their nets and curing their fish, provided that, in so doing, they do not interfere with the rights of private property, or with British fishermen, in the peaceable use of any part of the said coasts in their occupancy for the same purpose

It is understood that the above-mentioned liberty applies solely to the sea fishery, and that the salmon and shad fisheries, and all other fisheries in rivers and mouths of rivers, are hereby reserved exclusively for fishermen of the United States

ARTICLE XIX.

It is agreed by the High Contracting Parties that British subjects shall have, in common with the citizens of the United States, the liberty, for the term of years mentioned in Article XXXIII of this Treaty to take fish of every kind, except shell fish, on the eastern sea-coasts and shores of the United States north of the thirty-ninth parallel of north latitude, and on the shores of the several islands thereunto adjacent, and in the bays, harbours, and creeks on the said sea coasts and shores of the United States and of the said islands, without being restricted to any distance from the shore, with permission to land upon the said coasts of the United States and of the islands adjacent, for the purpose of drying their nets and curing their fish, provided that, in so doing, they do not interfere with the rights of private property, or with the fishermen of the United States in the peaceable use of any part of the said coasts in their occupancy for the same purpose

It is understood that the above-mentioned liberty applies solely to the sea fishery, and that salmon and shad fisheries, and all other fisheries in rivers and mouths of rivers, are hereby reserved exclusively for fishermen of the United States
